Meeting of the Legislature—Early Adjournment—Refitting of the State House.

In a few weeks the legislature of the State will assemble at Augusta agreeably to the requirements of the Constitution before the question of its amendment, changing the time of the meeting of the legislature from May to January had been acted upon by the people.—The vote in favor of winter sessions and the general wish for such will, probably, have an effect to cause a very brief session of the legislature this summer. An organization should be effected and a few of the most important laws which may be required, and which may be speedily passed, will, doubtless, engage attention, but beyond these nothing should be attempted—nothing, certainly which requires an order of notice should be acted upon beyond a suitable reference. It is, we think, the general wish and the general expectation that the legislature should and will adjourn after a session of two weeks, or three at most, and make the winter session the time for doing the regular business which may come before the legislative branch of the State Government. It will require some little persistence on the part of the members to effect an early adjournment, as time steals rapidly away while they are in session, and a vote to separate is a hard one for some men to give, particularly when various interests are pressing in the lobby and among a few of the members for a continuance of the sittings of the legislature. The people, we are sure, expect an early adjournment to the winter, and they should not be disappointed.

Since the last session of the legislature, the Representatives' Hall has been remodelled and greatly improved. The Hallowell Gazette states that the change is so great, and the improvement so striking, that it will hardly be recognized by its old acquaintances and occupants. The new arrangement of seats is so superior in point of convenience and comfort that the members will wonder how their predecessors ever got through a session at all under the old regime. The elevation from front to rear is considerably lessened, so as to be quite a gradual and gentle ascent. The number of passages is increased, so that only two members sit at the same desk in any case, all the desks being alike in their construction, length and convenience. There are passages or aisles around by the walls.—There are no hard seats as heretofore; but each member is to be furnished with a chair.—These we have not seen, but presume they will be of the latest style and shape, and cushioned to the heart's content. The Senate Chamber is also to be supplied with a new set of chairs, suited, of course, to Senatorial dignity and comfort. The only ground of regret in the case is, that these new luxuries may present to the members an additional temptation, apart from the $2 a day, to spin out the sessions to an interminable length.

☞ Theodore Parker delivered a characteristic discourse in the Melodeon, Boston, on Fast Day, devoted wholly to the consideration of the subject of slavery. From a sketch of his discourse, which appeared in the Boston Times, it appears that the preacher was very severe upon the subject of slavery and upon all who were in any way connected with the execution of the Fugitive Slave Law, and also upon a portion of the Christian church, which he denominated the church of commerce. In conclusion he said, 'he would counsel no violence. This was not the proper time, but unless slavery was shortly to be driven from the land, an opportunity would present itself. He wished to see the perpetuation of the Union, but he wished still, more to see the emancipation of every slave in the Union. That measure was to be brought about by peaceful means, and with the power of God. He would counsel agitation, petition, and lecture until the grand end in view was reached.'

There is a consistency in the course of Mr. Parker which is not so apparent in the course of others, politicians, who while they admit the rightfulness of the political compact of the Union, and the rights of slavery within the States where it exists, raise a clamor against the exercise of those rights by legal enactment. Mr. Parker is opposed to slavery, and to remove that he is willing to incur any and all responsibilities and risks. To him slavery is a worse evil than the dissolution of the Union, and this he frankly acknowledges. There are great and lamentable evils in human slavery, and there are great and manifold difficulties inherent in the system and in its connection with our government. Against these difficulties the country struggles and groans—but what are the remedies for these evils? That is the question which is naturally and fairly raised, and in answering this question it will be found, we think, that the remedy and cure of slavery are not within the power or scope of the general government. The dissolution of the Union, great as the change would be, is no adequate remedy for slavery, and would only introduce new political and social evils. The wrongs and the blight of slavery, massive as they are, cannot be cured by violence.

THE NEW OHIO SENATOR.—Judge Wade has just written a letter to a friend defining his position. He says he is hostile to the 'Compromise measures,' and particularly to the fugitive slave act, and regrets to see a disposition in any part of Ohio to engraft them upon the doctrines of the Whig party. He says—First, I am a Whig, always was a Whig, and nothing else—a Whig because I believe the best interests of our country are connected with the success of that party. I shall endeavor to deal fairly with the South. I do not intend to be an agitator, but while Slavery will consent to remain within her own States, without attempted aggression, I shall feel no disposition to interfere with her; in that I intend to be a true Whig.'

☞ A Cincinnati paper states that in the year 1838, a German gardener purchased a lot of two and a half acres of ground at the west end of Eighth street, in that city, for $2500. Last week he sold the same for $42,000.

Returned Californians.

Several of our citizens, who have been for about two years in California, arrived at home yesterday by the steamer Governor. Captain Reuben Bagley, Francis Bagley, John M. Lander, Ephraim S. Blake and A. W. Benson are among the number. They return in good health and in fine spirits, each, we trust, with a handsome pile of coin. They brought with them a portion of those rich fifty dollar pieces coined at the Assayer's Office in San Francisco. It was pleasant to greet our neighbors on their return, and to give them joy in their unbroken households.

☞ The Boston Daily Mail of Monday says that it cannot be concealed that the Money Market is getting hard up. The Banks discount a good deal, but the demand just at this time is so large that they cannot supply their regular customers, and the offered paper is vastly beyond their ability or disposition to meet. We do not apprehend any great difficulty, however, just at present. The time has not come. The specie basis in the country is as yet adequate to the demands for money for all the purposes of traffic, and the pressure now is merely temporary. When the influx from California shall cease to meet the outgo to Europe, then look out for brokers.

SHAKSPEARE'S DRAMATIC WORKS.

We have received from Mr. David Bugbee the 37th number of Messrs. Phillips, Sampson & Co's very rich edition of their works. This number contains the play of Hamlet, Prince of Denmark and is embelished with a fine portrait of Ophelia. This work as it approaches its completion continues to maintain its beautiful appearance, its pure white paper and its clear, large and rich typography. It will make a standard work worth possessing.

☞ The Bangor Democrat is this week in full chase of the Bangor Jeffersonian, with a particularly sharp stick. It charges the Jeffersonian with joining in the plan of breaking up the Democratic party for the purpose of forming a new party on anti-slavery ground.

☞ The New Yorkers are in extacies that the Pacific of Collins' line of steamers has made the passage from Liverpool to New York, from dock to dock in nine days twenty-one hours and thirty minutes, the quickest passage ever made between the two ports.

☞ The Emperor of Russia has presented the King of Prussia the chain of brilliants belonging to the order of St Andrew. The order itself the Emperor retains. The chain is worth a million thalers ($720,000.)

☞ The sun, long hidden, came out yesterday with glorious brilliancy, accompanied by a fine north west breeze, that made everybody cheerful and smiling.

☞ We are indebted to our friends from California for the latest California, New York and Boston papers for which we return many thanks.

RESCUED. The ship Charles Crocker, which arrived at New York, from Liverpool, has on board 58 Hungarian and Polish refugees.

☞ A call for an extra session of the N. Y. Legislature, has been issued by Gov. Hunt, to be held in June.

☞ It is estimated on the authority of official documents, that for the last sixty-five years our military establishments have cost at least $950,000,000.

April Weather.

The month opened rather promisingly. The sunshine and the rain seemed to prophesy an early Spring. But within a few days we have been visited by snow storms, and numerous drizzling showers. Nature seems to be going back a few weeks in order to do her work over again.

We had occasion the other day to ride some twenty miles through clay, mortar and mud puddles—far enough to convince the most incredulous that this is a very muddy country in the Spring when the snow is going off. Up along, about half the distance, we found the fields, especially the northern slopes of the hills white with snow. The small streams were unusually high, in several of which we saw the logs moving down stream in earnest.

But man and beast looked sorry. It was really a hard case for either to make headway. To get fast stuck in the mud could be done much more easily than it could be enjoyed.—Much to our surprise, we discovered that carriage seats are not always to be trusted when there are bad holes in the road; and our sympathies were particularly excited to see a lusty limbed fellow, who has been on the upper Penobscot the past winter, dieting on pork and beans, hard bread and molasses, etc., (who appeared to have taken a course of medicine since his return) fall from his seat in a most ungraceful manner, and deposit his remains in the soft mud. He seemed snugly laid away in his plastic bed—without ability to leave it. Tho he did not seem to enjoy his resting place exceedingly, his face having accidentally turned downward, he could merely express his dissatisfaction by sundry kicks and struggles.—Finally he was rescued from the dirty pickle into which he had fallen, and reinstated into his wagon, no lighter than when he took so sudden leave of it. The sorry animal moved on again, leaving it as a matter of reflection with the lookers on which was the greatest beast, the one between the fills or the lions on the top.

But all this is owing to bad April weather—showery, muddy and sloppy—altogether unpleasant. The very cattle by the way side looked sad and dejected at the sight,—mud, mud, and rain. Here and there a bird sat on the fence or a lone bird complaining bitterly of the cold backward April.

However unpleasant it may be it is just what we want. This late snow will help the grass amazingly, and the winter grain will not be worse for it, unless it freezes hard. The earth must be soaked and washed; after that, vegetation will start in earnest.

It's very bad travelling now—many bad places to get over, or go through, and one who must drive, whether or no, should not, as a matter of prudence, drink much 'strong coffee' on the way.

Signs and Threatenings in Prussia.

The Ministerial Organ, at Berlin, contains a warning voice which would seem to indicate an impression that the friends of the government are uneasy, and apprehensive as to the future. The article in question is indirectly addressed to the "constitutional oppositionists," and the Conservatives, who would become Republicans to-morrow if the republic were proclaimed. It is a continuation of the severe lecture the Ministerial Organ thought necessary to administer a short time since to their apathy, their love of comfort, their indifference, cowardice and every vice that can unfit men for a political struggle; but now it is extended to the small States, as the "Opposition" in the Dresden Conferences, and the Constitutionalists, as the "Opposition" in the Prussian Chambers.

After telling the Conservatives that they are quarreling about forms and phrases, when the very existence of society is threatened, the writer goes on to say:—

"I should be wanting in the sincerity I have made a duty did I not add that the division between the German Governments and among the Conservative party, the want of abnegation and energy in its leaders, are calculated to reanimate the hope and multiply the chances of the European demogogues. I have mentioned the German Governments; I have to reproach them with losing most precious time without putting an end to their disputes—without opposing to the flood of anarchy the dam of their alliance.

Observe well what I state with the utmost regret,—if the Prussian Opposition continues in its blindness, to the cry of 'Down with the Ministers' will succeed that of 'Down with the rich!' Such the pitiless logic of revolutions."

Having denounced the coquetting with the revolutionary elements indulged in by party leaders, he thus describes the consequence evidently derived from the events of 1848 in France:—

What are the final consequences of this system?

"Desires are excited, heads are turned.—We stand confronted by the roused masses, ready for the most desperate courses, for the belief in the sacredness of institutions has been taken away from them. The masses have been roused to action, but they cannot be stayed again; their passions have been excited, but they cannot be appeased. And now the Constitutionalists, like the disciple of the sorcerer, who invokes the evil spirits without knowing the spell that lays them, call loudly on their master for help. But the master is slow to hear; the judgment is not yet fulfilled; the agitation spreads; the storm increases. Political institutions have been prostrated by reducing them to mere products of the opinion of the majority; social institutions now come in their turn; the majority will decide as to them also.

And now, these Constitutionalists, the Epicures, the advocates and men of the Bourse, stand with sinking hearts and trembling knees, shaking for their houses, their money-bags, and their heads.

You have played your game with Constitutions, with oaths, with thrones, and dynasties; you have made of the most holy institutions the mere tools of your own purposes, and now you would preach from the house-tops 'Property is sacred!' No one will believe you. It is a contradiction to sound reason that your shops and your money-bags should be sacred where you have polluted the altar and burnt the throne!

No, your property is not sacred! Spare yourselves the phrase!! The time of phrases is past; the red powers now appear upon the stage.—Prostrate yourselves before the crucifix; bend before the bayonet! surmount the Church to your aid, call the army to your side. They will, perhaps, take pity on you, but naturally at the price of the supremacy of power, which has escaped from your hands forever!"

The French Refugees in England, have published the following:—

We declare in the most solemn manner that whoever attributes to us, the French Republicans, refugees, now residing in London, designs such as have been attributed to us, or in any manner similar to them, is a vile slanderer!

We make this solemn declaration, not because we dread to be driven from the refuge we have found in this country, for the revolution which has had power in France, may resume that power, and in so doing exact, perhaps, too large a satisfaction for the wrong of which we should be the victims—an idea which never entered into our minds.

We may be calumniated, but the world will never believe that men the very first act of whose advent to power was the destruction of the scaffold,—men who accomplished a great revolution without shedding a single drop of blood, without committing an act of violence, without imprisonment, and without confiscation—the world will never believe that we are assassins or incendiaries."

TUNNEL OF THE NEVIGH. We learn that a very long tunnel has been recently excavated in France, on the line of Railroad leading from Marseilles to Avignon. It is 3 miles in length, 600 feet under ground, and cut through solid rock. The height is 30 feet and the width 21 feet. The number of cubic yards removed therefrom is greater than the amount contained in the Hoosac Tunnel. This work is finished—the cars running through daily—and cost 10,200,000 francs or $2,040,000. From this it would appear that the estimate of the cost of the Hoosac Tunnel may be correct. It seems that the great Tunnels of Europe, old and new, cost about $5 per cubic yard, and it cannot be in the nature of things, that they can beat us in excavation, when they use nothing but hand drills, and driving them but a few inches per day, while we have powerful steam drills which enter sixteen feet per day into solid granite.—Boston Times.

☞ The Mormons were in Grand Legislative session for four days in December, and met again in January. A Proclamation to the Saints, has been issued in which an authority of 'Revelation,' it is announced that;

'In as much as any man drinketh wine or strong drink among you, behold it is not good, neither meet in the sight of our Father, only, in assembling yourselves together, to offer up your sacraments before him. And behold, this should be wine, yes, pure wine of the grape of the vine, of your make. And again, strong drinks are not for the belly, but for the washing of your bodies. And again, tobacco is not for the body, neither for the belly, and is not good for man; but is an herb for bruises, and all sick cattle, to be used with judgment and skill. And again, hot drinks are not for the body or belly.'

These, and other words of wisdom are recommended to the 'Twelve, High Priests, Seventies, Elders, Bishops, Priests, Teachers, Deacons, Brethren and Sisters of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints' and they are ordered to confer together and 'decide whether they are sent forth in the wisdom or the folly of man.'

ANOTHER FUGITIVE SLAVE FREED. The Boston Journal states that, on Saturday last, free papers for a fugitive slave, who is employed in a mercantile house in that city, were received from his owners in Norfolk, and placed in his possession. He is therefore now a freeman.

Lynching at Cosumes.

On the 7th ult., two mule thieves were arrested as they were crossing the Cosumes river with a lot of stolen mules. Their names were James Baxter, of Maine, and Charles Simmons of Massachusetts. The finale of the affair is thus related by the Sacramento Transcript:

"The prisoners were then arraigned, and a motion then made to give them a trial by jury, but the proposition was hooted down by the infuriated crowd! A motion was then made that they be hung at once, which was carried by acclamation!

They were then called upon to make a confession, being told that they had but half an hour to prepare for the solemn change that awaited them. They gave their names as Jas. Baxter of Maine, and C. Simmons of Massachusetts—the names may have been assumed. The prisoners were then told that their times had nearly elapsed; they seemed to be much excited, and begged, for God's sake let us live a little longer. Five minutes more were given them, during which time one of the prisoners called on the other, saying, in a low tone of voice, 'let us tell them all about it,' to which the other replied, 'no, no, hush.'

When the half hour had elapsed, they were told their time had come. Lariats were brought, nooses made, and the guilty wretches hung up! This took place at 12 o'clock last night, (Friday) and their bodies were still suspended this morning when our informant left, although persons were engaged in digging two graves."

Dimunition of Wrecks at Key West.

A correspondent of the Savannah, Republican, writing from Key West under date of the 8th inst, says:

"We have had no large wrecks this year, and very few small ones. Consequently our wharves and warehouses present an inanimate appearance. This languor in business has driven many of our industrious citizens to a new business—the gathering and buying of sponge. Some five or six thousand dollars worth has been collected this year and shipped. It is as yet an experiment, and if it prove successful will be a source of great revenue to this place, for it grows in exhaustless quantities about the reefs and keys, and is collected and prepared for shipment with but little expense or trouble. It is generally of a coarse quality, and the success of the experiment depends chiefly on its being used for manufacturing. It is worth here ten cents per pound.

A War at Manilla---Expedition against Sooloo.

A letter to the Philadelphia Inquirer, dated Manilla, Jan. 23, embodies the following important intelligence:—

"We are in a high state of excitement here, as war has been declared by the Spanish government against our piratical neighbor, the Sultan of Sooloo. An expedition consisting of three War steamers, a corvet, a brig with transports, and 3000 regular troops, will soon be ready to invade Sooloo. The Island has always been a nest of pirates, and as they first upon one of the steamers sent to demand satisfaction for sundry insults, besides ill-treating the bearer of the flag of truce. Government will now teach them a lesson which they will not soon forget. The force which goes down is amply sufficient for the purpose. You have no idea of the cruelty and audacity of the Soolob people, and the liveliest enthusiasm prevails among the men and officers who are to form the expedition."

Sentences of Murderers. The perpetrators of the recent murder on the River (the particulars of which it will be remembered we published some time since,) have been sentenced to be shot—one in Panama, another in Gorgona, and a third in Chagres. Another person was arrested a few days since, but as he cannot be identified, he will in all probability be released. It is generally supposed that the condemned have only murdered the six men (which their confession) and the other crew of the boat that contained the two men and women and the children, are still at large.

The Gold Excitement. During the past few days, says the Panama Star, we have heard little else talked of in our lively city, but the gold mines of the Isthmus; and the projection of several joint stock mining companies. Several parties, we learn have started off on their own hooks in search of placers, and Major Doss's expedition promises to be a very large one.

☞ The Paris correspondent of the Tribune, Mr. Fry, of Philadelphia, the composer of the Opera of 'Leonora,' tells this singular story:

A curious incident occurred the other day in the Elysian Fields. A lady jumped from a carriage, upbraiding a gentleman for having destroyed her peace, and drew a pistol and fired it in her bosom. The gentleman immediately lifted her into her carriage, telling the coachman to go to a certain hospital. The police went to the hospital, but no wounded woman was there. No traces of the parties have been discovered. The lady is said to be an American. Who is it?

☞ The Somerset People's Press states that Mr. W. B. Smith, employed at the mill of Robbins & Pegg in Norridgewock, was caught in the machinery and drawn over a shaft and carried round some twenty times. When he was secured one of his legs was broken in two places, three ribs were badly fractured and smashed up, and the ends of all the fingers on one of his hands were literally torn off,—with his body and limbs, otherwise seriously mangled and bruised. He may recover.

☞ The Norridgewock Press states that there have occurred within the past 18 months, some 200 deaths in St. Albans and its immediate vicinity, by an epidemic that is still prevailing there to some extent.

☞ TAKE TIME BY THE FORE-LOCK.—Many others besides old Father Time have only left themselves time to be taken, through their own carelessness in not adopting sure remedies for baldness. As a preventive or cure of baldness it has no equal.

☞ One or two paragraphs connected with the following article was accidentally omitted in our paper yesterday and we reinsert the whole for a fair and regular reading.

To the Citizens of Bangor.

At a meeting of Engine Company No. 4, held Monday evening, April 14, the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, the connection long existing between this Company and the Fire Department of this city has been recently dissolved, and whereas, the Company feels fully sustained by every principle of right, in the position it has maintained, we take this occasion to place some facts before the public before finally separating from the Department.

Our services as Firemen have extended over a period of fifteen years, we have done duty at 150 fires and have turned out at 155 alarms, and at an expense to the city of over $2000 less than the other companies which have served for the same length of time. During that period (with the exception of 12 months) the city has provided us with an engine of smaller capacity than the other companies, thereby subjecting us to the mortification and disadvantage of laboring against odds when placed in a line.

In 1846 the city government granted us a new engine, to be of equal capacity with the other engines then in use. In constructing that machine the Chief Engineer and the building committee strictly adhered to the order as to size, and gave assurance than an order *should be passed establishing that size as the limit for all the engines in the city. But in violation of those pledges the City Government neglected to establish the size of engines for the city, and the next year permitted Engine Company No. 3 to dispose of their engine and procure another of much larger capacity, thereby creating a greater inequality than had over previously existed. Thus disregard of former assurances and its consequent effect, viz: placing us on unequal ground when placed in a line as formerly, this Company regarded as an undeserved degradation, and immediately met and passed resolutions refusing under any circumstances to go into a line with the new engine of larger capacity. That on these and on no other conditions would we continue our services as firemen.

A copy of these resolutions was sent to the Mayor, and also to the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, and likewise published in the Whig and Courier. These resolves were laid before the City Government and as we were informed placed on file; and we as a Company have since regarded them as one of the conditions of our service in the department, and they were so understood by the authorities of the city; and for three years past, down to the burning of the "Dutton House," we have done duty with this understanding, without damage to the city or to individuals, and doubtless might have continued to do so for years to come had the Engineers been as interested in saving property as they were in testing their own authority against one broken purpose.

As some persons have seen fit to cast censure upon us for our course at the Dutton House fire, we will briefly state the circumstances of the transaction that all may judge for themselves.

First. Had no engineers been present we could easily have extinguished the fire without any other help.

Secondly. If the Chief Engineer had maintained his first order for No. 4 and 2 to form a line, the fire would soon have been extinguished.

Thirdly. When the Company became satisfied that it was determined that a line should be formed with No. 4 and 6, they immediately gave up their engine and it was manned by others.

Fourthly. The order to form a line by placing the smaller engine to draw the water 18 or 20 feet and lead it through 600 feet of leading hose up all the rising ground there was between them and the fire into a large engine was unwise and unskilled for.

Fifthly. That it was the changing the position of the engines after this blunder which caused most of the delay and loss of property.

The justice of the principle for which we have uniformly contended, viz: equality of capacity with other engines in the city is admitted, by all considerate persons as the true basis of permanency and efficiency in the Fire Department.

By a report from a special committee of the City Government on the fire department during the last season, this principle has been fully approved. Yet that same report places the wise committee in no uncomfortable light, in point of consistency, by containing a recommendation most grossly in violation of the principles to which they so freely gave their approval.

It is indisputable that at least one other Engine Company in the city has ever had its unreasonable demands satisfied (sometimes even before asking) while our reasonable requests have been passed by unheeded and unanswered.

For instance, the city refused to pay for an economically built hose carriage (which we purchased ourselves and run three years) until an unasked appropriation of $100 was made to No. 3 for the same purpose.

It may be true that a generous public spirit added to a love of exciting scenes may lead men to sacrifice much of personal convenience to discharge the arduous duty of firemen; yet it is quite possible for gross injustice and palpable partiality on the part of those served, to diminish the pleasure of such relation.

As this Company have ever considered it the desire of their fellow citizens in establishing a Fire Department, to secure an economical and efficient method of protecting property from the ravages of fire, and believing that this desirable object can only be attained by judicious and impartial action on the part of the City Government, and that the only rivalry which should be encouraged is that of promptness and efficiency; and that the course pursued by the City Government for the last five years has been of an opposite character;—that instead of promoting harmony, efficiency and economy, it has fostered discontent and ill feeling in the department, and rivalry in drawing money from the city treasury,—and, for the present, at least, (owing to the unaccountable vacillating course of those in authority,) there is no prospect of a change of feeling, and seeing no honor to be gained by such rivalry, and believing that the city has as many companies as it ought to support at the PRESENT RATES OF PURCHASING AND REPAIRING ENGINES; Therefore,

Resolved, That we do now disband,

Per order of the Company.

*In May, 1846, the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department made a report to the City Council recommending the passage of an ordinance establishing the size of engines at two gallons capacity. This report was referred to the joint standing committee on the Fire Department, of which a prominent member of No. 3 was chairman, he refused to make any report until the new No. 3 was nearly finished, (although he was repeatedly requested to do so by the Chief Engineer and others of the Fire Department) then he was in favor of making a report fixing the size of all engines hereafter built to two gallon capacity, or about two thirds the size of No. 3.

The Wonder of the Age!
BEWARE OF IMPOSITION!
The Only Genuine and Original IS THE
NORTH AMERICAN ELECTRIC WASHING FLUID,
For Washing in either Hard or Soft Water.
THIS is the only genuine article to be found in the world, and possesses double the power of anything ever discovered, for washing, clothing at a trifling expense, doing away with washboards at once. In fact it seems to be the long sought philosopher's stone, or universal solvent; seeming a magical preparation, its operation being of the most astonishing character. A common sized washing may be done with one gill of the Fluid, in less than two hours. It softens and removes the dirt, leaving the articles of the most brilliant whiteness; it bears as hard less in its operations as pure water and clothing will wear much longer than when rubbed to pieces by the common method of washing.
This Fluid is a powerful agent, to be used in all cases where soap is required; particularly for cleaning silk utensils, cleaning windows and paint, scouring floors; in short, it is beyond a precedent, as its use is universal in the washing world.
P. S.—All Colored Goods are rendered brighter by being washed in this Fluid. All Woolens are insurable to shrink, and thereby rendered much softer than in the old way of washing.
None genuine unless the Labels contain their Signature.
The above article is warranted by the Manufacturers not to contain acid, lime, camphene, burning fluid, or acids of any kind, but to be purely an alkaline preparation of the most powerful character, possessing more than double the washing power of anything ever discovered, being perfectly harmless in vapor, without possessing the caustic properties of the miserable articles which flood the market, and in many instances disgust the people to that degree that they are unwilling to try a good article, when it really is to be found. The proprietors only ask a fair trial of this article, and are perfectly willing to forfeit any amount for a single failure in any instance where it is used.

He would particularly call attention to a very fine assortment of DWARF PEAR TREES, on Angor's Quince stock, imported from the North of France, and which are very justly in great demand in New England, as they come immediately into bearing and are admirably adapted to garden culture where there is little room to spare.

It is now put up in QUART BOTTLES, of the same power and medical efficacy as when sold in less. Each large bottle also contains TWENTY-FOUR DOSES, and the medicine is so Strongly Concentrated that every One Tablespoonful is required for a Dose—three times a day—it can be taken Twenty-One Days, which is much longer than a bottle of any other medicine lasts because there is required of this less quantity at a dose.

The great Superiority of the Blood Purifier over all other medicines consists in a great number in its possession of a part of its compound, the powerful Medical Virtues of some Scarce and Rare which no other medicine possesses. These are the most certain Purifiers of the Blood that were ever known to the Indians or white men and these being compounded with the strongly-concentrated Extracts of

Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock,

CHERRY AND SASSAFRAS BARKS,

make this Vegetable Extract, not only the greatest Blood Purifier, but also a cheaper medicine by great odds than any other It is cheaper, because a quantity of it that may be bought for One Dollar will last much longer, and will cure Ten Times more Blood disease than One Dollar's worth of any other medicine.

☞ For undoubted proof of the Cures of

IN QUART BOTTLES.

For Purifying the Blood, and for the Cure OF SCROFULA MERCURIAL DISEASES RHEUMATISM, CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS, SWOLLEN UNDERGROUND ULCERS LIVER COMPLAINT DYSPEPSIA BRONCHITIS, SALT RHEUM CONSUMPTION PEARL SORES FEMALE COMPLAINTS, FEVER AND AGUE LOSS OF APPETITE, PIMPLES, BILES, GENERAL DEBILITY &c.

In this preparation we have all the active properties of the root combined and concentrated in their utmost strength and efficacy Experiments were made in the manufacture of this medicine until it was found it could not be improved Accordingly we find it now endorsed almost universally in cases of Scrofula Liver Diseases Salt Rheum, General Prostration of Nervous Powers and all those forms of disease of the skin not trying to the patient on account of the health It is a gentle aperient and diuretic and does not leave a disagreeable effect on the bowels and thus combines the properties which are ordinarily the result of three different kinds of medicine are far in one at the same time through the instrumentality of this one remedy Agent There are many ways in which a medicine may be adapted to the health but there is only one way of remedying disease No palliative no anodyne no topical application will remove it It must be taken at its source in the fluids of the body which convey the poison to the localities where it is developed in the form of sores ulcers tumors abscesses, glands or swellings &c as the case may be

Thus the system must be reached acted upon purified by some powerful agent Such an agent is Sands Sarsaparilla which gets into the circulation and expels from the system such and such only that air tainted and at the same time restores the vigor and tone of a great number of the vital organs and nerves the active principles of disease have fled and when the task is done the symptoms necessarily disappear The rapidity with which the patient recovers health and strength is astonishing to the inhabitants of our spring Each new case in which it is applied furnishes in the results a new certificate of its excellence and we have only to point to the accumulated testimony of thousands who have cause to bless the effects and that they may be benefited as I have been

I can add no further comment to the overwhelming testimony in favor of your invaluable medicine hoping it may lead some other unfortunate victims to its
